

8

0

1

Ä

1

1

1

1

1

A diagram consisting of a single horizontal line. From this line, several vertical lines of different heights extend upwards. There are five vertical lines of varying heights on the left side and five shorter vertical lines of equal height on the right side, all originating from the same horizontal baseline.